

LIFE THROUGH THE LENS

LITTLE ROCKS ALL TOGETHER

Have you ever stopped and looked at a small section of bitumen road?

Like down on your hands and knees (check the road first). It's amazing! Lots of little pieces of crushed rock and black stuff.

On their own the pieces of rock would be scattered all over the place; become lost, buried in the dirt; of no consequence to anyone and of no use.

Thankfully, the black stuff; tar, binds all those individual little odd shapes together. Together they have the strength to carry the weight; the speed not only of cars but also Semi's, B Doubles and road trains. Not only one but untold numbers; again and again and again.....Together little pieces of rock and black sticky stuff withstand incredible pressures. These very mundane things become blessings to individuals, communities; countries and even our world.

That is how a loving God planned "Community". Lots of little individual pieces held together by something we call "Service"; we call "Caring"; we call "Community. We call "Love".

In our town there are many such recognised groups; held together; caring together" But stop and look closely; change your focus and see the two or three in your street who might be working to bring care; love to their neighbours. Their efforts may appear insignificant.

Jesus sees them. He doesn't think they are insignificant. He says "Ask me! I'll join with you. My love can make you; your friends even stronger!" Check out Matthew chapter eighteen verse twenty.

God bless and stay strong.....together.
Kevin Schrapel