

“LIFE THROUGH THE LENS”

REINFORCED = INNER STRENGTH

The new hotel in Murray Bridge is going up and up. The workers clambering over it and the patrons who will one day eat, drink, and stay there can all be confident. Why? Because of the planning, being built by competent tradespeople and, those pieces of steel inside the cement pillars. When the hotel is completed, you will not see them; they are the inner, hidden, strength.

Jesus offers all who trust Him an exceptional strength that is not always seen, but it will be provided to all who ask. Check out God’s words in 2 Timothy 1:7, which says “for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control.”

People have always faced troubles, let downs, put-downs, health issues, mental issues; and the list goes on. Sometimes we come through them without too much pain, but then there are the times when it appears that no way can we stand firm against the pain, the push from someone or something.

The new hotel, even though high, will be able to stand against the strongest winds pushing against it. The strength and support of those hidden rods; rods designed to be there by the designers and architects and engineers give it that hidden strength.

The designer of you, the architect of you, the planner of you have planned that you can have an inbuilt strength. You cannot put it into your life yourself; only the builder can do that.

God says, “Let me love you, let me strengthen you even before the winds come to blow against you. You might wonder how? Ask Him. Talk to Him. Tell Him; “Jesus, I need You to make me strong to face .....

God bless, stay secure and safe.
