TEA TOWELS, TEDDY BEARS AND JESUS

Teddy bears are great. Jesus is better. He does all the things a Teddy bear can do,

PLUS:

He forgives and doesn't hold grudges or keep score of the times you might have upset him.

He promises to help you feel joyful if you trust him – even when things go wrong.

You can't lose or leave Him behind because he promises to always go with you.

He always promises to listen when you tell him your problems.

He promises to help you solve life troubles in ways that are best for you, even when you might wonder how.

He promises that when life is too hard and you feel worn out, he will help you find restful thoughts and feelings.

He promises to give you courage when doing what you know is right is scary.

He promises to help you feel important and valuable even when you feel useless.

He wants you as a special friend when you think no one wants to know you.

When you feel life is dark and closing in, he promises to be there for you and help you find your way. Just trust him. Talk to him.

Cheers and God bless you this week and always,

Kevin. PS Ruth thinks Op-Shops are lovely places.
